Free and Accepted Masons

MILLVILLE, N. J.

Instituted - May 21, 1861

Dear Brethren:

Logic directs us how to form clear and distinct ideas of things. This science ought to be cultivated as an invaluable aid in our inquiries, especially when in pursuit of those sublime principles which claim our attention as Masons.

This is one of the most valuable precepts of Masonry. During investigations the investigator must look not only for the obvious, but more importantly, the unknown or unobvious. Ofttimes to seek the truth, devious means and subterfuge methods must be used to determine the motive. In the meantime, those not knowing the facts draw conclusions from rumor and gossip.

I recently had the occasion to discuss a situation with a brother Mason, whose heart and mind were extremely troubled and torn between two faction. In arriving at the solution to the problem the brother retained the principles of Masonry and must be totally grieved in his final conclusion and action. No matter how he turns he is condemned by one faction or another. I, by no means or manner am desirous of his position.

I am hopeful that Masons will think like Masons; especially when in pursuit of those sublime principles which claim our attention as Masons.

Fraternally,

ROBERT F. ANDREWS, W. M.
