June 1988

Brethren:

What particular significance has the word 'Masonry'?

Should Masonry have a religious connotation? An educational foundation? An instructive basis, which teaches charity and brotherly love?

If all of these factors are in place, and are self-evidently represented as truth, would they not necessarily stand independently alone, as pillars of wisdom and strength, to support any foundation?

If the wisest and strongest of our Fraternity have built Masonry to its pinnacle, how could we, as members of the Craft, forget our teachings and fail to beautify our great Institution with the elements of kindness, affection, industry, and a consciousness of each and every members welfare and happiness, so that when we practice these precepts, we serve only to glorify and beautify the word 'Masonry'.

During the month of June, a new member will be entered in Shekinah for the first time in over a year. I most sincerely hope that if time will permit, you as an individual Brother, can attend this Communication, and bring with you all of the elements of Masonry that you possess, to not only impress the candidate, but also to support your Officers, and to assure yourselves of the rights and benefits you cherish.

Sincerely and Fraternaly,

GARY R. LAWSON
