

My Brother:

This month marks the return of spring and the return of all the glories associated with this season, the fruit trees that are so plentiful to us in this region will soon be in full bloom, giving promise of their intended bounty at harvest time. The beautiful flowers, the new leaves, the green grass, giving proof to all of the divine nature of God. If any person needed reassurance of the power of the almighty, this would be the time to look about, observe, and marvel at his handiwork, this bringing to life of all the beauties and wonders of nature that are so prevalent in the spring.

So it is also with us in Masonry, the winter with it's cold and snow, that has kept so many away from their lodges and lodge activities is "God Willing" behind us and we can look forward to getting out and being true traveling men. It is a time of rededicating our principles and readjusting our cable tows. We are members of the largest fraternal organization on our earth and traditionally the oldest. Size of membership is very important but participation is of much more importance. The officers of the lodge are doing a fine job in preparing newly entered, passed or raised brothers to become able and fit members of our fraternity. These new members are part of our future and need to be nurtured as any other new life. They need to see that we are all interested in their masonic growth and future and we could do no better than when their eyes are opened to be there with right hand extended as a sign of brotherly love and care. If we think enough of a man to put our name on his petition, then our masonic duty is to insure that this new brother receives all the support and encouragement that he needs. I intend to have a special program our first meeting in May one that hopefully will entertain as well as being educational. I can tell you no more about this but be present in May, and be pleasantly surprised and entertained.

Fraternally,

LEONARD R. POTTER, JR.
