

“.....and the greatest of these is charity.”

Brethren:

Have you ever been away from home with your wife and family, and suddenly realized that your wallet is missing? If you have, you probably remember the horrible feeling that comes over you! It's a panicky feeling, and until you have time to collect your thoughts it's hard to know which way to turn. Now, if you can, put yourself in south Miami on the morning of August 25th when the residents of that area came out of the hurricane shelters to find that most had lost everything they owned! I doubt the feeling you would have had could come close to that which was experienced that morning by the victims of hurricane Andrew. As most of the news reporters have told us, it's impossible to comprehend the full impact of the devastation unless you saw it first hand.

I'm sure our brethren in the area have had little time to think about what effect the storm had on their Lodges. As we saw, the storm was no respecter of property and while we have not been advised of any specific problems, I'm sure there will be just as much help required to rebuild them as there is for the other homes and businesses.

To this end The Masonic Service Association of The United States, through the Grand Lodges, have asked for our support. We have been asked to make our contributions through our local Lodges to Grand Lodge, who will in turn, forward them to M.S.A., We have been assured that 100 percent of the donations will be used for the rebuilding of the effected Lodges. All checks should be made payable to Shekinah Lodge and marked "Hurricane Relief". These will be consolidated and a single check forwarded to Grand Lodge, also so marked. I have been advised that these contributions are tax deductible.

Brethren, "the sign has been given" — let's remember, it could just as easily been South Jersey.

Fraternally,
HOWARD YOUNG
 Worshipful Master
