Brethren:

When you go to a Masonic meeting or a dinner where they have a guest speaker, he will usually give you a small piece of advice: "Live your Masonry." What does this mean? How do you "Live your Masonry"?

To "Live your Masonry" means to show by your words and actions that you follow Masonic Principles. The way you speak to people, the way you conduct yourself, and the things you do to assist your fellow man will show that there is something special about you, that you consider the welfare and happiness of others to be of great importance.

A Mason who lives his Masonry is the person who will call to see if an elderly friend needs a ride to the doctor or to the store. He is the person who will stop by to see someone who is feeling poorly. He will stop by just to say hello and chat for a while. He will call to see if you want to go to lunch unexpectedly. He is the person who will show up unasked to help you if he knows you are working on a project. These examples and many more are the qualities of a Mason.

You can also "Live your Masonry" by wearing or displaying the emblems of Masonry; a ring, Masonic license plates, a stick-on decal, a hat, a jacket, a shirt, or any number of things that show you are a Mason, and that is why you exhibit the qualities before mentioned.

I hope that you don't "Live your Masonry" for the Brethren only, but that you live it for everyone. Whenever we are instructed how to conduct ourselves, we are told "... with all mankind, especially the Brethren." We are to conduct ourselves according to Masonic Principles towards everyone. There are some Masons, unfortunately, that treat the Brethren like kings but do not follow Masonic conduct with Non-Masons. These are the Masons that give Masonry a bad name. I hope that we all endeavor to live by the Masonic Principles with everyone. If we do, Masonry will grow and flourish.

— The Table Lodge —

The civilized people of the world have ever cherished family feasts; Christmas, New Years, and in this country, Thanksgiving Day. These gatherings are more than mere opportunities to eat; they are spiritual solidifications of family ties, opportunities for mutual family rejoicing.

Most American lodges are familiar with the "fourth degree" when members gather in the dining hall following the meeting, to enjoy collation. They are familiar with the Masonic banquet, which provides an elaborate meal, followed by a speaker, or some other form of entertainment.

The feast, as a function or ceremonial occasion is very, very old. The Lodge feast carries out, in Masonry, a custom which was old when the pyramids were built. From this ancient custom, in which brethren broke bread together and drank in common, came the Table Lodge of the late 17th and early 18th century.

A Table Lodge is not only a banquet with entertainment, but rather a special lodge ceremony in itself, with ritual, formalities, and a special terminology which is interesting indeed.

The arrangement of the tables, in a tiled banquet hall, where only Masons are admitted, is enough, in itself, to testify to the Masonic interests and connection of this unique affair.
